New Web Site Creates Online Community and Resource for Women Everywhere, at Every Age

Everything4Women.com Offers Women the Tools They Need to Succeed, at Work and at Home

November 2010 – For Immediate Release - Media4Women, a full-service online media and marketing company, is proud to announce the launch of its new website, Everything4Women.com. The website was created to share advice, tips and knowledge on the topics that matter most to women – relationships, career, spirituality, health, finance and finding balance.

“We are so excited to offer women all over the world an opportunity to connect, communicate and converge with their ideas and identities.” says Tonilee Adamson, co-founder of Media4Women. “No one has all the answers, but by building a place to gather knowledge about all the things that matter most to women – we hope to share what we know and help every woman achieve all that she can.”

Everything4Women.com will also feature interviews with successful and engaging women from the world of business, celebrity and philanthropy, bringing their unique perspective and insight to what it takes to balance family, career and your own well-being. There is also a community forum where everyone is encouraged to make their voices heard, whether is asking a question, expressing their opinion or offering support and help to their fellow contributors.

About Media4Women:

Media4Women specializes in creating full-service marketing strategies specifically designed to guide small business owners through all of the steps it takes to achieve entrepreneurial success. Primarily targeted towards the non-career woman who now needs to create a profession or business in these tough economic times, Media4Women illuminates the key components to creating or elevating a successful small business. Bobbye and Tonilee, the creators of Media 4Women, provide clients with all the tools needed: from designing a logo to creating a profitable website to developing a comprehensive marketing plan.
